One simply never knows what is going to happen when the boys hit the stage, but lucky for us the lucky charm was on point. The weather outside was, how can I put it? Precarious. The wind was at its fiercest, weathered faces shivered. But our warm welcome was not to be let down. I wrote earlier that this show was going to be one of the most memorable of the season for me. But it wasn't until the boys brought us along to highlands that I realised just how emotional the performance will be, despite the fact I've only lived in Northern Ireland once in my life. Other highlights of the night for me, apart from the laughter that erupted from the boys on stage, was to be shown old school footage of the boys at Glendalough in the early 90s. We are not from here, we are from Dublin. So it was great to see the boys going through the motions, slapping sticks, tossing dice, showing their 'snakeskin' boots
